Library doors to stay open

The political make-up of the Council may have changed dramatically in the May local elections but it has brought with it a reprieve for the community library on Bathurst Avenue, based in the City Learning Centre. Instead of closing at the end of May Boundary Library will now keep its doors open and continue to offer exactly the same valued service that it always has, to school children and to the wider local community.

Councillor Graham Cain, cabinet member for tourism and culture said: "Libraries are an important part of a community. They help keep people informed about local events and meetings as well as serve to provide facilities people may not have access to anywhere else. Boundary Library has served its community well ever since it opened and we will make sure it continues to do so."

A budget for the library has been found from cuts to senior management posts to maintain the service, aided by a promise of support from the ward budgets allocated to councillors to help improve the wards they serve.

Ward councillors, Councillor Gillian Campbell and Councillor Brian Doherty, are thrilled the library will be staying open. Councillor Campbell adds: "The library is what the residents want so we are more than happy to allocate some of the ward budget we control to make sure that's what they get. I hope in the future it is well used and we can improve the services and facilities we can offer from the building."

Boundary Library will be open on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays between 9am and 5pm. It will close for lunch at 12.30pm for half an hour.

Jimmy scores own statue!

Many Blackpool residents will notice a new addition at Bloomfield Road. A statue in honour of Seaside and England legend Jimmy Armfield CBE is now in place at the south west corner of the ground at the junction of Bloomfield Road and Seaside Way.

Blackpool Council worked closely with Blackpool Supporters Association to arrange the statue being located on council land in an eye-catching position.

Speaking at the official unveiling Mr Armfield said he was honoured that Blackpool FC fans and the whole town had made such an effort to recognise him.

Standing proud: the new Jimmy Armfield statue

Reach for the STARS

The highly successful STARS play scheme will be opening its doors again this summer to provide a wide range of activities for children and young people with a disability.

STARS (Socialisation Through Active Recreation and Sports) is a play and youth scheme for children aged between 4 – 18 years.

The play scheme will run between 1-26 August at Woodlands School and offers an exciting programme of activities including music, sports, dance, and arts and crafts. The scheme is supported by qualified, well trained staff and was voted the 'Outstanding Short Break Provision 2010/11' by parents.

For a while it looked like STARS would fall victim to the recent government cuts but funding was found to keep the important service going, something that has delighted cabinet member for younger people, Councillor Amy Cross. She said: "The STARS play scheme is an important community service that we would not want to lose. I am delighted that funding has been found to ensure this scheme continues to support the families in Blackpool for whom this service is a lifeline during the holiday period."

STARS is run in partnership between Blackpool Council and Blackpool FC Community Trust. For more information please contact Debra Smith on 07895044858.

In the summer time...

We're all hoping for a good summer, with plenty of sunshine to help us make the most of our town.

However, while we're enjoying the good weather we can often forget about personal and home security. Doors and windows are left open to let fresh air in, bags are left unattended in beer gardens – and thieves can take advantage of this.

We are working hard to further reduce crime in Blackpool and we'd like your help with this.

Burglary is at an all time low – in fact reports dropped by 6.9 per cent last year. By following a few simple crime prevention tips, you can guard against opportunist thieves targeting your home or business.

- When you go out, always lock the door and close the windows – even if you are just going out for a short time or are sat in your garden having a barbecue.

- Fit key-operated locks to all windows.
- Consider fitting a burglar alarm and security lights.
- Draw curtains or shut blinds when you go out or close up so that people cannot see in.
- Keep shrubs, hedges and large plants cut back. They can provide a screen for thieves to work behind.
- Make sure side gates, sheds and outbuildings are locked.
- If you have been using expensive outdoor equipment, lock it away once you have finished with it.

The summer months also see more people out and about on Blackpool's streets and making the most of the resort's shops, bars, restaurants and other attractions. Blackpool is a safe place to be and we want you to really enjoy your days and nights out, so -

- Don't leave bags unattended on the floor or on the backs of chairs while you nip somewhere else.
- Only take the valuables that you need out with you and avoid having them on display.
- Always lock and secure your car, checking the sunroof and windows.
- If you are going out for a drink, make sure you plan ahead how you will get home – never drink and drive.
- Carry a mobile phone with you and store our 0845 number in it, along with a number for a local taxi firm.

Did you know?

Last year* there were 542 fewer victims of crime in Western Division, which covers Blackpool and Fylde.

We also detected more crimes – with over 37 per cent of reported incidents resulting in a criminal being caught and dealt with.

*Figures are for April 2010 – March 2011 in comparison to April 2009 – March 2010.

Olympic celebrations will raise a torch for Blackpool

All eyes will be on the new Tower Festival Headland next year as the space receives a great honour of holding its first large scale event to mark the arrival of the Olympic Flame during its relay to the 2012 Olympics.

Blackpool is one of 66 evening celebration locations across the UK. Residents and visitors will be able to descend on to the massive event space for a huge night time event that will trigger a full weekend of celebration. Once the torch has arrived in the UK in May 2012 a team of 8,000 relay runners will take the torch around the country, passing through Blackpool on 22 June. Full details of the event are still to be confirmed but Blackpool Council has vowed to make sure the festival headland, due for completion this summer, will mark the occasion in spectacular style.

Sebastian Coe, Chair of the London 2012 Organising Committee of the Olympic and Paralympic Games (LOCOG) said: "We are thrilled that Blackpool has agreed to host the Olympic Flame on its journey right across the UK. The Olympic Flame will shine a light right across the town, celebrating the culture and heritage of the area and showcasing the very best of Blackpool."

Cllr Graham Cain, cabinet member for tourism and culture, said: "We are very proud that Blackpool has been chosen to play host to the Olympic Torch. We are equally as excited that we will be able to do the visit justice by hosting one of the first events on the new Tower Festival Headland that evening."

"We will make sure that the Olympic spirit doesn't die out on the run up to the games. We will be providing opportunities for young people to get involved in sport and activities with an Olympic theme."

Together with the three presenting partners – Coca-Cola, Lloyds TSB and Samsung - LOCOG is seeking 8,000 of the most inspirational people to have their moment to shine next summer by carrying the Olympic Flame. Keep your eye out for a national campaign to find the torchbearers.

If you know any inspirational people who have gone beyond their personal best then nominate them by logging on to www.london2012.com/olympictorchrelay. The deadline for nominating through the LOCOG campaign is 11.59pm on Wednesday the 29 June 2011.

School admissions

Choosing and applying for a school place is one of the most important decisions a parent can make.

Thousands of parents received welcome news this spring when they were granted an offer of a school place for their child.

The School Admissions Team at Blackpool Council has recently completed this year's allocation of school places for primary and secondary school children, successfully offering 3,012 children a school place.

The process starts back in the autumn when parents are encouraged to fill out an application form. Although the application process is straightforward, and there is an easy on-line route, the allocation process is heavily regulated.

The Admissions Team has to ensure that every application is considered fairly and that everyone gets the offer of a place. That can mean coordinating with faith schools and other authorities if the applicant requests a place in a school outside of Blackpool.

This year 85% of primary school applicants and 93% of secondary school applicants received their first choice school.

Ian Johnson from South Shore is just one parent who completed the form online. he said:

"Having looked at all the local primary schools in our area my wife and I decided on our first preference primary school for our son, William.

"In November 2010 I registered with the online Admissions Application Service. This allowed me to submit our three primary school preferences online and also allowed me to change any of the details up until the deadline date of 15 January 2011.

"As I had used the online service this also meant I would receive email notification of the school allocated on decision day.

"On 26 April the email was received and we were delighted to read that we had been allocated our first preference choice.

"We found the whole process very easy to follow and all deadline dates were well advertised.

"We are now looking forward to William starting Primary School in September with the knowledge that he will be attending the right school for him."

For those parents who will be starting the process for their child for 2012 admissions the advice is – apply on time. Many people think that if a child is already at a school their sibling will automatically get a place even if they don't apply. This isn't the case so it's really important everyone applies and leaves plenty of time to do so.

The School Admissions Team is on hand to help with any queries on 01253 476829.

Tips and Advice

Trading Standards Advice

Does the following sound familiar? "Congratulations! You have been specially selected to receive a prize of £25,000. That's confirmed! There's just a small matter of a processing fee to cover admin and tax..."

Chances are most of us will have received something like this and with scammers becoming more inventive, it's hard to know what is genuine.

As well as these bogus prize draws, some of the more common scams involve money transfer, bogus loans, psychics, slimming products, holiday clubs, tax rebate or credit repair schemes.

Blackpool Council's Trading Standards team offers the following warning signs to look out for: overseas agents, requirements to pay a fee in advance, requests to put in your personal details, contact numbers given are only mobiles, and no UK-based address, website or land-line is given.

And of course the most important warning sign of all? If an offer looks too good to be true... it probably is!

Recent scams brought to the attention of Trading Standards involve Council tax reclaim, unsolicited invoices, Royal Mail deliveries, computer virus and advertising scams. If you are a Blackpool resident or small business and think you have been the target of a scam or would like to check if an offer may be a possible scam, please contact Blackpool Trading Standards advice service on 01253 478375.

News in Brief

National Eye Health Week

To mark National Eye Health Week (13-19 June 2011) Blackpool Council's Sensory Services team are organising a two day event to promote the importance of maintaining good eye health with regular eye checks.

Local resident overcomes addiction through learning

Steven Ward, aged 43 from Blackpool, has proved what can be achieved through adult learning by earning a top regional award.

Steven has won the Regional Outstanding Individual Learner of the Year Award from the National Institute for Adult and Continuing Education (NIACE).

He won the honour after completing courses with Blackpool Council's Adult, Community and Family Learning, overcoming many personal challenges and ultimately achieving his European Computer Driving Licence (ECDL) qualification.

In March 2009 Steven sought help with his drug and alcohol problem from Addaction Blackpool and became abstinent within two months. During this time Steven attended the centre's IT classes, before deciding to study for the ECDL qualification, which meant venturing outside the familiarity of Addaction.

"My learning has played a massive role in keeping me abstinent. It keeps me busy and stops me getting bored," said Steven. "Overall I am a lot happier now in my life and also I am a lot healthier... I have exceeded my own expectations of myself."

Blackpool Council runs a range of Adult, Community and Family Learning courses at venues across the town, ranging from IT to Art and Yoga. For information on all current courses please visit www.blackpool.gov.uk (search Adult Learning) or call 01253 478131 / 478032.

News in Brief

Free training and advice for voluntary, community and faith groups

The VCFS Project at Blackpool, Wyre and Fylde CVS are going 'on tour' to offer their FREE training courses and funding advice to local voluntary organisations in the area.

These courses and advice sessions are being held in community centres, halls and clubs across the Fylde coast and are open to all voluntary, community and faith sector groups.

The funding advice is offered at drop-in sessions, where people can sit down with a cup of coffee and look through current lists of grants suitable for their needs, or get friendly one-to-one help filling in application forms.

For timetables and more information on either the training or advice sessions check out the Blackpool, Wyre and Fylde website at www.cvsbwf.org or call the VCFS Project Team - Kriss, Alison or Simon - on 01253 624505.

Council elections 2011

Following the local elections in May 2011 the newly elected Blackpool Council Leader, Cllr Simon Blackburn, has announced a new era for local government in the town that will be underpinned by transparency, openness and a value-for-money culture.

Cllr Blackburn has also announced who will sit in his new cabinet and plans to change the scrutiny committee structures, saving more than £200,000 over the next four years.

The Council Leader said: "I want the Council to be open and transparent and for residents to understand exactly where their council tax goes and the services they receive. I will be looking to make savings and looking to re-invigorate communities by reviving our area forums.

"We want to see more members of the local community involved and that is why I will be proposing that area forums are chaired by members of the local community in the future and that they will meet more frequently.

"We want to see more people in our town hall when decisions are being made at Council meetings and will be doing all I can to encourage more members of the public to come and ask questions at meetings."

The political make up of Blackpool Council following 2011 elections is Labour 27, Conservative 14, Liberal Democrat 1.

The proposed new cabinet will be made up as follows:

- Leader and cabinet member for children's

- social care - Cllr Simon Blackburn

- Deputy Leader and cabinet member for streets and transport - Cllr Fred Jackson

- Cabinet member for education - Cllr Ivan Taylor

- Cabinet member for regeneration and urban development - Cllr Gary Coleman

- Cabinet member for tourism and culture - Cllr Graham Cain

- Cabinet member for housing - Cllr Gillian Campbell

- Cabinet member for equality and diversity - Cllr Sarah Riding

- Cabinet member for adult social care - Cllr Kath Rowson

- Cabinet member for crime and community safety - Cllr Eddie Collett

- Cabinet member for younger people - Cllr Amy Cross

The Council's proposed committee structure will be as follows:

- Scrutiny Committee (replacing five policy, overview and scrutiny management committees)

- Appeals Committee (replacing employment and appeals)

- Planning Committee (replacing development control)

- Health Committee

- Licensing Committee (incorporating public protection sub-committee)

- Finance and Audit Committee (replacing audit committee)

- Standards Committee

A year in the life of the Mayor

Each May a new mayor is elected to represent the town. Your Blackpool finds out how the outgoing mayor, Cllr Don Clapham, enjoyed his year and what the new mayor, Cllr Joan Greenhalgh is looking forward to.

It's been an amazing experience

Asked what the highlights of the last year have been, and Cllr Don Clapham is spoilt for choice. From sharing breakfast with local Brownies, to meeting Robbie Williams, it was all in a day's work.

Councillor Don Clapham was appointed The Worshipful the Mayor of Blackpool last May, with his wife Gill - and Mayoress - by his side. "I don't think anything can quite prepare you for the role of Mayor. But it's been an amazing year," says Cllr Clapham.

"We have really enjoyed it, it's been a marvellous experience which has changed our lives. Looking back it's hard to believe how many wonderful people we've met and what we've helped achieve - for example raising a staggering £20,000 for chosen charity 'Young Carers in Blackpool'." He has met many inspiring residents, no more humbling than the hundreds of young people who look after members of their family - be it the elderly, their parents or another relative. Despite this, the carers need to go school, complete course work and pass exams, and are often too scared to ask for support.

"When I think about the highlights - most involve the young people in our community - they have such spirit. There are so many unsung heroes living here in Blackpool," he adds.

One of the finest memories was joining local Brownies for breakfast, the morning after they'd enjoyed a sleep over at the Town Hall - the first of its kind.

"I was greeted by a crowd of little girls in their jim jams - they were so polite and very well behaved. We all sat down together to eat breakfast and they asked me so many questions with such enthusiasm."

From football promotions to the opening of new attractions, it's been a high-profile time for the Mayor.

"Last year's Switch On was undoubtedly the best ever and international mega star Robbie Williams pulled in tens of thousand of people. Meeting Robbie, his dad and his wife was definitely one of our most memorable experiences."

Cllr Clapham admits it's been extra special sharing the role with wife of 35 years, Gill, whom he took to a Buckingham Palace Garden Party. She also thoroughly enjoyed the charity Fashion Parade which took place at the Town Hall - and featured small businesses the Council has supported.

Michelle Smith, Chief Officer at Blackpool Carers Centre, is particularly grateful for everything Cllr Clapham has done for the charity - not least choosing it in the first place. "We were thrilled to hear how much had been raised and thank the Mayor and Mayoress of Blackpool for all their generous support throughout the year."

The new Mayor of Blackpool

The new Mayor of Blackpool has represented Clifton Ward since 1992. Councillor Joan Greenhalgh has been deeply involved in many aspects of community life which has enabled her to work closely with local people and organisations.

She is a Governor of a school, Vice Chair of Marton and Mereside Community Association, a member of Mereside Surestart Partnership and also Mereside Gala Committee.

About a year ago, Councillor Greenhalgh suffered a stroke. Determined to champion on she has proudly taken up the position of Mayor for 2011 and 2012.

The Worshipful Mayor of Blackpool has nominated Brian House Hospice as her charity of the year, along with Easterleigh Animal Sanctuary and Cats Paw Sanctuary - two charities

All in a day's work - meeting Robbie Williams that work tirelessly to re-home pets across the Fylde Coast.

"I feel both excited and proud to be the next Mayor of Blackpool. I anticipate it being a challenging year but am determined to demonstrate that life goes on - despite the stroke. I can still do lots of things.

"I have lived a varied working life. Prior to being ill last year, I have always led a very active life. My passion is dance and I was a member of the Tower Children's Ballet and have danced professionally in lots of shows."

Councillor Greenhalgh boasts two children, Pat and Richard, who are both grown up and live in Marton. She is the proud grandmother of Harry aged ten and Amber aged six. Her daughter Pat will support her in her role as the Mayoress of Blackpool.

Councillor Joan Greenhalgh has been appointed the next Worshipful Mayor of Blackpool.

Area Forums

local issues decided by local people

Blackpool's local Area Forums are getting ready to meet to encourage local people to get involved in issues affecting their daily lives.

In Blackpool there are seven Area Forums each covering three Council wards. In a change to previous years, the chairman of the Area Forum and Area Panel will be a member of the local community, not a local councillor, and will be appointed from the existing Area Panels.

The Area Forums are set to meet four times a year and are a great place to raise issues affecting your area and local lives. So if you have problems with litter, concerns about your local park or any other facility in your area, or even more positive issues you want to discuss, then the Area Forum is for you.

Area Forums meetings:
The Area Forums cover seven areas and will meet at the following times:

- Sandhurst (1): Anchorsholme, Bispham and Norbreck. Monday 11 July
 - Beacon (2): Greenlands, Ingthorpe and Warbreck. Tuesday 12 July
 - The Gateway (3): Brunswick, Claremont and Talbot. Wednesday 13 July
 - Parklands (4): Layton, Marton and Park. Monday 18 July
 - Revoe (5): Bloomfield, Tyldesley and Victoria. Tuesday 19 July
 - Cherry Tree (6): Clifton, Hawes Side and Stanley. Wednesday 20 July
 - Thames (7): Highfield, Squires Gate and Waterloo. Thursday 21 July
- Exact venues have not been confirmed but will be published on the Council's twitter and facebook profiles and on www.blackpool.gov.uk or you can ring the Council for venue details on 01253 477477.

Area Forums and you

Area Forums are there for local people and aim to get local public services to work together to improve an area in the way local people want. With busy lives it is often hard for people to spend time coming to meetings and some people are not comfortable talking in public places. Don't let this stop you getting involved or having your say. In order to make your Forums more responsive, we want to hear what you think about your local Area Forum, what might make you more able to get involved and how you want them to work for you. Complete this small survey and you can have your say and make sure your Area Forum works for you. Please take a few minutes to complete the following questions and return to Area Forum survey, Blackpool Council, Municipal Buildings, Corporation Street, Lancs, FY1 1NF. You can complete the questionnaire online by visiting www.blackpool.gov.uk/haveyoursay or if you have a smart phone, by using this code:

Area Forum survey

How many meetings of your local area forum do you think you will attend over the next year?
None 1 2 3 4

If you answered "none", why is this?

Below is a list of issues your local area forum could cover. Which are most interesting to you? Please tick all that apply:

- Access to nature
- Activities for teenagers
- Affordable decent housing
- Clean streets
- Community activities
- Cultural facilities (e.g. libraries, museums)
- Education provision
- Facilities for young children
- Health services
- The local economy
- The level of crime
- The level of pollution
- The level of traffic congestion
- Parks and open spaces
- Public transport
- Race relations
- Road and pavement repairs
- Shopping facilities
- Sports and leisure facilities
- Wage levels and local cost of living
- Other issues (please write in)

Would any of the following would make you more likely to take part in your area forum? Please tick all that apply:

- Live broadcast of meetings on the Internet
- An online discussion forum for your area
- The opportunity to discuss local issues on twitter and facebook
- Opportunity to submit questions and items online
- A more accessible meeting venue
- Meetings held during the day
- Something else (please write in)

How would you like to be notified about future meetings of your area forum?

- Reminders on facebook or twitter
- Reminders by email
- Posters displayed on the venue and around the local area
- Publicity in Council publications
- None of these
- Something else (please write in):

Finally, please write in your postcode. This is so we can check how many people are responding from each forum area, and will not be used for any other purpose

Youth Matters

Lauren wins the vote of her peers

It's not just councillors that have been elected recently, Blackpool's young people took part in an election of their own.

More than 3000 votes were cast for Blackpool's representatives on the United Kingdom Youth Parliament (UKYP). This year's successful representatives are:

- Lauren Anderson (Member of Youth Parliament)
- Elliot Linton (Deputy Member of Youth Parliament – North)
- Bethany Acton (Deputy Member of Youth Parliament – Central)
- Sam Richardson (Deputy Member of Youth Parliament – South)

If you have anything you wish to talk about with Youth Parliament reps, please text UKYP to 07775008018 followed by your message. Or you could email lee.abbott@blackpool.gov.uk.

Your Blackpool caught up with Lauren Anderson to find out more about the role of Member of Youth Parliament.

How old are you?

I am 15 years old.

What school/college do you go to?

I attend Montgomery high school.

What made you get involved in UKYP?

I want to work on local and national campaigns that help young people, not only in Blackpool but across the UK. I think it's important that young people understand they can bring positive change to their own futures. I am an outgoing and ambitious person and this should help me in my role as Member of Youth Parliament.

What do you like about Blackpool?

I like that it's a seaside town. I think it still has a lot of potential as a tourist attraction and would love to help it get back on it's feet.

What are your main aims as MYP?

I want to bring positive change for young people. We often get bad press and are labelled as all the same. If one young person does something bad then we all get a bad reputation. This isn't right. One of the regional campaigns this year is Youth Opportunities, Media and the Police. I'm looking forward to representing the views of young people on this matter.

What are you most passionate about?

I'm passionate about helping other people and specifically having more places to go and things to do for young people. Blackpool used to be a great holiday town with lots to do. I would like to help get things back on track.

Lauren Anderson: Blackpool's Member of Youth Parliament

What other things will you be doing as Blackpool's MYP?

I will be helping to design action plans for campaigns and feeding information to young people in Blackpool. I will also be feeding their views and opinions back to UKYP through groups like Blackpool Young Peoples Council and Junior Ambassadors. This year's national campaigns will be established at the national sitting and then its work, work, work!!!!

Do you see yourself taking up a career in politics?

I'm not sure yet. I find it interesting but this is my first real test of how I can make an impact.

Would you encourage other young people to get involved like you have?

Yes, definitely. Winning the Blackpool wide vote was a great feeling. My family are very proud of me. It's a great feeling.

Youngsters celebrate BSF progress

Highfield Humanities College pupils help mark the start of work.

The three Building Schools for the Future projects in Blackpool are all currently under way and it's an exciting time as things start to take shape...

The Highfield Humanities College project is currently on schedule. The new building is set to be completed in time for students to move in for September 2012, with the final scheme completed in January 2013. The site have adopted the Kensington Trust as their charity and there are events planned to support this throughout the project.

The St Mary's and Christ the King scheme is progressing well and to programme. A significant amount of steelwork has already been erected on site. The St Mary's scheme will be completed by April 2013 which is when the Christ the King primary school and worship space will commence. The full scheme is set to be completed April 2014.

The Mountford Centre project is a small scheme included within the BSF programme. Around £150,000 is being spent to complete some minor refurbishment, provide ICT equipment and new fixtures and furnishings. The scheme is due to be completed over the summer holidays.

Local suppliers are being utilised on all sites and are being encouraged to employ local apprentices.

Altogether Now

... creating a legacy for Blackpool

As Blackpool Football Club marks the end of its incredible season in the Premier League, we look back on the highlights of our ground-breaking campaign to improve health.

Altogether Now – a legacy for Blackpool was launched at the Seaside's first home game in the Premier League on August 22 2010 in front of almost 16,000 fans.

Spearheaded by NHS Blackpool working in partnership with Blackpool Football Club and supported by Blackpool Council, the programme is centred around four Tangerine Targets, key to improving the health and wellbeing of our local community.

These are: Physical Activity; Lifestyle; Childhood Health; and Mental Health and Wellbeing. Each of the Tangerine Targets has a high profile Health Ambassador – pictured across these two pages.

Blackpool Manager Ian Holloway is Health Ambassador for Physical Activity; Paralympian Shelly Woods is Health Ambassador for Lifestyle; Lancashire County cricketer Steven Croft is Health Ambassador for Childhood Health and Blackpool legend Jimmy Armfield CBE is Health Ambassador for Mental Health and Wellbeing.

The Tangerine Targets are underpinned by the eight health priorities for the town – smoking; heart disease/strokes; alcohol abuse; substance misuse; mental health; sexual health; childhood obesity; and cancer. Blackpool football club players are Health Champions, supporting each of these priorities.

Highlight
England Manager Fabio Capello proudly sported an 'Altogether Now' rosette at the launch.

The campaign is one of the first of its kind to have been recognised as part of the London 2012 Inspire programme, with Seb Coe – Chair of the London Organising Committee for the Olympic Games – describing it as “a really important initiative for Blackpool.”

With the club preparing for their return to the Championship, the message remains just as strong: Altogether Now... let's create a lasting legacy for Blackpool!

Health Champions

Highlight
Blackpool midfielder Elliot Grandin wore his 'Altogether Now' t-shirt when he was presented with the Man of the Match trophy on Sky.

Holloway's High School Days! As part of the campaign, Blackpool Manager Ian Holloway will visit high schools in Blackpool to deliver motivational assemblies taking along his full squad to meet pupils. Special health education packs have been produced for the visits.

The Stadium at Bloomfield Road has been transformed by the installation of 40 'Altogether Now' no-smoking signs.

The Club is one of the first in the country to adopt such a visible approach to banning smoking in and around the ground.

MATCH OF THE DAY

Highlight

'Altogether Now' – a legacy for Blackpool was featured on Match of the Day!

Highlight

'Altogether Now' was short-listed in the national Health Service Journal Awards in the Partnership Working Category

Before, during and after each of Blackpool's home games in the Premier League the 'Altogether Now' film featuring the players and Health Ambassadors has played out to thousands of fans in the Stadium on the big screen.

NHS Blackpool was given special permission to use the infamous 'Altogether Now' track by The Farm to promote the campaign.

Each home game has marked the focus on one of the four Tangerine Targets. Two pages of advice and information relating to the Target and underlying health priority have appeared in each match day programme.

In addition, an accompanying health film - 19 in total - has been relayed to an average audience of 16,000 people, young and old.

Former Commonwealth, European, World and Olympic triple jump champion Jonathan Edwards CBE visited Blackpool to see the 'Altogether Now' programme in action.

Jonathan - a member of the London Organising Committee for the Olympic Games – said:

"Altogether Now is a fantastic programme and should be rolled out everywhere across the country."

Jonathan's visit to Palatine Sports College coincided with a visit by Ian Holloway and the full Blackpool squad (see left hand page) as well as an interactive NHS Blackpool Health Roadshow for pupils.

Stop Press... A successful bid to the Premier League for funding will see Altogether Now delivering a major health education and physical activity programme to EVERY primary school age child in Blackpool. The launch is planned for September. Watch this space...

New attractions for Blackpool

This summer will see brand new attractions open in Blackpool for the whole family to enjoy. Already the Pleasure Beach has unveiled Nickelodeon Land and the first Madame Tussauds outside of London has now opened on Blackpool Promenade. Work is also well under way for two brand new rides at Sandcastle Waterpark and there's exciting plans at the Tower as well.

Two international stars came to town to launch the new attractions

David Hasselhoff, star of Baywatch and judge on Britain's Got Talent, officially opened Nickelodeon Land with global Nickelodeon superstars such as Sponge Bob Square Pants and his buddy Patrick, Dora the Explorer, the Rugrats and more.

The new area of Pleasure Beach is home to 12 fabulous rides, packing in fun, family friendly attractions alongside intense thrills and spills!

David said: "I've been to a lot of events and openings but those with Sponge Bob Square Pants are my favourite! I had a blast working with him on The Sponge Bob Square Pants Movie and have loved joining him on the Nickelodeon rides at Pleasure Beach".

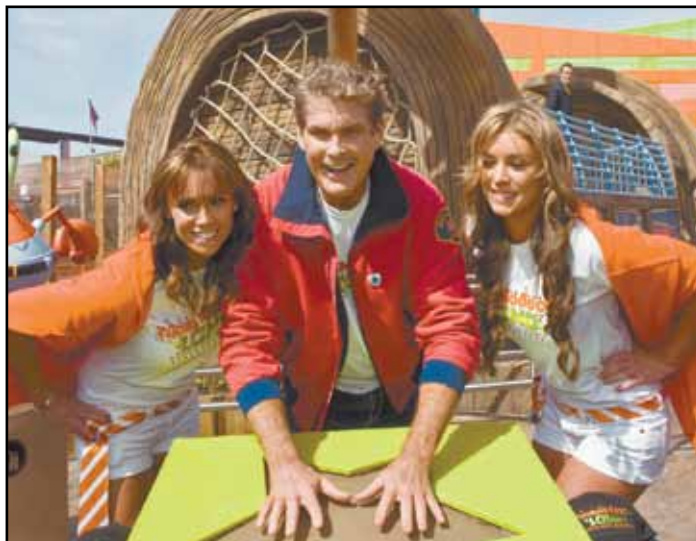

Music sensation Susan Boyle opened Madame Tussauds on the Promenade and came face-to-face with her wax figure: "I am thrilled to have my very own wax figure and honored to be invited here to launch the new Madame Tussauds in Blackpool. It was such a great process to be involved in and it looks very realistic."

This year Sandcastle Waterpark will welcome a £2.5 million investment in the form of 2 new Aztec themed slides called Montazooma and Aztec Falls, opening this summer.

LOCALS OFFER

Don't forget that as a Blackpool resident you will receive a 50% entry discount at the Sandcastle if you have a FY1-FY8 postcode. Take proof of address with you and take advantage of the great offer!

Sandcastle Waterpark is open all year round and welcomes families from all over the world. For more information please visit www.sandcastle-waterpark.co.uk.

Your chance to enjoy the new attractions!!

To be in with a chance to experience the new attractions this summer and win family passes to Madame Tussauds, Pleasure Beach Nickelodeon Land and the Sandcastle, please email your.blackpool@blackpool.gov.uk with the answer to the following question:

How many new rides are there at Nickelodeon Land?

Closing date: Friday 1 July 2011

Promenade update

The end is finally in sight and the Promenade is due to reopen to traffic mid June. Whilst work to transform the Promenade and seafront has been under way the road has been closed in front of the Tower.

The team working on creating a new layout of the road and pavement have been working long hours to ensure that the motorists are able to use the Promenade again as soon as possible.

Here's an update on the other projects taking place on the Promenade.

Tramway

Over the winter months the tramway has been closed to allow the new track to be laid. The tramway reopened between the Pleasure Beach and North Pier in time for the Easter holidays and as Your Blackpool went to print trams were running up to Little Bispham. More sections of the track will continue to open as the work progresses. Check out www.blackpooltransport.com for the latest information on times and routes.

Wedding venue and tourist information centre

The striking new building on the Tower Festival Headland has certainly been creating a lot of attention since construction started earlier this year. The new building will house a restaurant, tourist information centre and wedding venue. There's already a list of people wanting to get married at the new venue in the backdrop of the Tower with the first wedding expected to take place in October. For more information on booking a wedding or ceremony please ring 01253 477177.

Tower Festival Headland and Comedy Carpet

A new striking piece artwork is currently being created on the Tower Festival Headland. The Comedy Carpet is a collection of more than 100 comedy catchphrases etched in granite and will be unveiled in September.

The headland that the carpet sits on will be able to host events for up to 20,000 people.
