

When the Caring Role Comes to an End – Nov 2010

Has your caring role changed or come to an end?

Looking after someone is a huge part of your life but it is inevitable that your caring role will change over time. It may no longer be possible to look after the person you care for at home. There may come a time when you have to think about life after the loss of your loved one.

Whatever your situation it is important to realise that you are not alone. It will be difficult but you can find help and support.

Age Concern can offer a wide variety of practical and emotional support. Contact them on 622812.

Other information is available from your GP's surgery or the care Co-ordinator working with you or your relative.

In addition Blackpool Carers Centres can continue to provide support. Contact them on 393748.

Who to Contact about Benefits

Your benefits may change but it is important that you continue to claim the benefits to which you are entitled.

If you are under pension age and not able to work because of illness or disability you may be able to claim Incapacity Benefit.

If you need help to look after yourself or with getting around, you may be entitled to Disability Living Allowance (if under 65) or Attendance Allowance (if 65 or over)

For further advice and information on Welfare Benefits, contact: Age Concern (if over 50) on 622812, or Advice Link (if under 50) on 476843. Age Concern is able to visit you at home and help fill out any necessary forms.
