Risk assessment for emergencies

Last Modified April 14, 2020

Are you aware of the risks in your area and the measures that you need to take as a resident/business? The Preparing for Emergencies booklet provides a helpful guide in assisting you in preparing for risks that you may face.

We work alongside our emergency planning partners in the Lancashire Resilience Forum to assess the risks we face from emergencies and to produce a community risk register.

This downloadable document details a variety of risks that, if realised, may impact upon not only Blackpool but the wider Lancashire area and possibly beyond.

Lancashire Community Risk Register

The Lancashire community risk register is a valuable source of information for businesses, the voluntary sector and any interested party in the community in order to assess the impact to them of the risks identified in the document.

This can greatly assist in the planning and preparation for emergencies which in turn contributes to enhancing the resilience of our communities and that of the UK.

Where to get information in an emergency

When a major incident occurs the radio, TV website and official social media feeds will normally provide the fastest means of giving information and advice to the public.

Recommended local sources of information

- BBC Radio Lancashire 103.9FM, 104.5FM and digital radio
