THE CYRIL CRITCHLOW COLLECTION

The Cyril Critchlow Collection is held in the Local and Family History Centre on the first floor of Blackpool Central Library on Queen Street. Cyril Critchlow was a founder member of Blackpool Magic Club, proprietor of the Coronation Street Theatre and at one time had his own museum of entertainment in Blackpool. He was author of a number of books on Blackpool’s entertainment past. For sixty years he collected and recorded all aspects of Blackpool’s entertainment heritage from the nineteenth century to the present day. Cyril was a huge supporter and promoter of entertainment in Blackpool, and a great collector of entertainment ephemera. He was a member of Equity, the Magic Circle, Blackpool Heritage Forum and former Councillor of Blackpool.

The Cyril Critchlow Collection is an extensive collection of ephemera and printed material relating to the entertainment industry in historic Blackpool. Material consists of printed ephemera including programmes, handbills, posters and flyers; photographic material including postcards, glass negatives, photographs and commercially produced tourist views; archival material relating to Lawrence Wright’s “On With the Show” on North Pier including song sheets, notes, photographic material, programmes and autographs; programmes from major and minor entertainment venues including North Pier, Central Pier, South Pier, Tower, Winter Gardens, Grand, Palace, Queens etc.; Blackpool history with files, notes and manuscripts relating to each individual venue or aspect of Blackpool’s entertainment.

The collection contains around 11,000 items, and is housed in 179 volumes of original archival material and 52 volumes of research notes. These volumes can be consulted upon request. A catalogue of the collection follows.

All the following Beatles images were taken on 1 Aug 1965 by Trevor Tarr, who in the 1960s worked as Head of Public Relations at what became British Aerospace in Warton, Lancashire. The Beatles were staying at the Clifton Arms in Lytham for their “Blackpool Night Out” TV broadcast. In his working role Trevor Tarr knew many of the local journalists and, although not a professional photographer himself, was invited to follow them in an unofficial capacity to the Clifton Arms and thence to Blackpool.

These images represent the rehearsal for the first public performance of “Yesterday” and show the sound checks and run through in advance of the show. Paul McCartney is seen playing “Yesterday” as he sits in the stalls. The show was the world premiere of the song. The full bill for the show was Mike and Bernie Winters, Pearl Carr and Teddy Johnson, Johnny Hart and Lionel Blair and his dancers.

The above images were taken on the Beatles’ final performance in Blackpool. The Blackpool Gazette of 3 July 2013 reports the Beatles’ previous Blackpool appearances as follows:

7 July 1963 at the ABC
14 July 1963 at the ABC
21 July 1963 at the Queens Theatre
4 August 1963 at the Queens Theatre
11 August 1963 at the ABC
25 August 1963 at the ABC
8 September 1963 at the ABC
19 July 1964 at the ABC
26 July 1964 at the Opera House
16 Aug 1964 at the Opera House

Vol 170 p 41  Engraved view of ‘Bank Hey Street, from the corner of Adelaide Street, 1870s’. The cottage on the left, later the site of Woolworths, belonged to Robert Bird, a draper and pioneer Methodist; across the road is the building remembered as Lockhart’s Café and the Coronation Rock Company; the spired building is St John’s Infants School of 1856 - it was taken over by John Bennett, a draper, in 1888 and later by R.H.O. Hills whose first bazaar had been in Church Street on the site of the Clifton Palace Cinema. Engraved view of ‘Euston Street’, one of Blackpool’s “lost” streets, now covered by British Home Stores; it was a street of small businesses, stables and warehouses dating from the 1830s - Leonard Dews pawnbrokers is just visible but some will remember Whewell’s Bazaar, Crossley’s leather shop and Lewis Levine, jeweller and pawnbroker; on the right is Oddfellows Arms, sometimes known as Taylor’s Arms after the landlord William Taylor, there in 1870s; the Oddfellows Arms closed in 1923 and was turned into a warehouse; just beyond it is an entry through to the covered market; at the bottom on the left was the Castle Inn facing Market Street, whilst at the Corporation Street end was the Market Hotel - it was all swept away in 1939 and the site was used as a car park and open market during the ensuing fifteen years.
