Welcome

Blackpool needs little introduction as a mainstream tourist destination. Loved and visited by millions, it occupies a unique place in the hearts and minds of the British people. It has achieved that position through an enduring relationship and strong emotional bond with generations of visitors, who remain loyal to the resort offer in the face of increasing competition from both coastal and urban destinations.

The challenge is to maintain that status against a backdrop of a more aspirational family audience; a tangible lack of investment in some aspects of the visitor offer; and negative perceptions held by higher spending visitors who are unconvinced by Blackpool's appeal.

If anyone doubts that such perceptions can never be overturned, then take a look at the remarkable season of 2014. This was a year in which Blackpool very visibly turned a corner. Investment in a substantial destination marketing campaign (including TV advertising), a programme of high-profile free events and the long-awaited return of the West End summer show to the Opera House created a positive vibe within the resort, the like of which has not been experienced for years, as well as an upsurge in visitor numbers.

The opportunity that now beckons is to build on that momentum by continuing to apply a subtle brand repositioning of Blackpool, one that creates a contemporary, family-oriented beach resort that is renowned for the breadth and quality of its visitor offer in terms of attractions, accommodation, leisure facilities, transport links, events and entertainment.

If we are to achieve that, there must be a clear commitment from public and private sector stakeholders to continue to collaborate to reinvent Blackpool as an exemplar destination for new generations.

Without that commitment, Blackpool will continue to dwell on its past instead of looking forward to the future.

I am delighted to present this Destination Management Plan (DMP) which sets out a vision and strategic direction for the resort.

Blackpool has been the UK’s most popular seaside destination for more than a century. Our ambition is to keep the resort at the forefront of tourism for generations to come by creating a place that has a rich blend of heritage and contemporary attractions.
This Destination Management Plan for 2015-17 seeks to build on the substantial investment that has been made in Blackpool over the past decade. It strives to create a place where visitors can enjoy an experience that matches their expectation of a modern resort destination.

The key outcome is not merely to increase visitor numbers and target the higher-spending leisure seekers that other destinations are enjoying without the inherent attractions that Blackpool possesses, but also change some of the deep-rooted negative perceptions of the town.

The hundreds of millions of pounds worth of public sector investment in the promenade, tramway and in the acquisition of key leisure assets including the Tower and Winter Gardens, have created the opportunity to change the resort’s fortunes. This plan is underpinned by an aspirational brand positioning aimed at changing any negative perceptions of Blackpool by creating a high-quality, year-round family destination that is capable of supporting a wider economic regeneration.

The essence of the “City Life On The Beach” brand is that we seek to create a place with a contemporary city feel, a vibrant destination offer, complemented by better housing, sustainable employment and a tangible sense of civic pride.

HOW?

- Retention of the resort’s “golden core” comprising world-famous visitor assets and attractions, and thus building on the positive perceptions of Blackpool as a place that evokes warmth, nostalgia and a strong emotional link to people’s family experiences.

- Gradual elimination of poor-quality, sub-standard accommodation and facilities, combined with a shift away from a low-budget stag and hen culture that creates barriers and a standard of our facilities, tackle the benefit culture that blights the resort and reduce the over-supply of poor accommodation.

- Securing of a range of high-quality entertainment, attractions, branded hotels, restaurants and leisure facilities, and improved conference facilities. All complemented by greatly enhanced customer service, a secure and clean environment, and effective proactive marketing.
Tourism is the economic lifeblood of Blackpool. It directly supports thousands of businesses and more than 24,000 jobs and indirectly supports employment and a myriad of businesses within the supply chain.

• Total of 17m tourism visits (adults and children) equating to 26.9% of all visits to Lancashire
• Total of £1.295bn generated within the local economy through visitor and tourism business expenditure, supporting more than 24,000 full-time equivalent jobs in the local economy
• 13.5m tourism visits made by day visitors to Blackpool, generating over £430m for the local economy
• 3.5m visits made by visitors staying in Blackpool, generating a total of 9.3m bed nights and contributing over £863m to the local economy
• Total bedstock in Blackpool of 69,000 beds, comprising 14,200 non-serviced and 54,800 serviced beds
• Economic impact of tourism rose by 4% between 2012 and 2013

*Annual tourism impact research undertaken by Global Tourism Solutions (UK) Ltd for 2013

The Value of Tourism
Creating a city vibe in an iconic beach location

Tramway
A £100m scheme that has created a contemporary tram system between Blackpool and Fleetwood with state-of-the-art, European-style trams running alongside the famous heritage trams.

The revitalised tramway has created the potential to give visitors a more sustainable way of moving around Blackpool and the Fylde Coast as well as opening up a fast and reliable commuter system for local residents.

Seafront
A six-year project that cost almost £200m and which has resulted in a complete transformation of the seafront, replacing the sea wall with a series of dramatic Spanish steps leading down to the sea and the creation of six new headlands. The remodelling of the promenade has created one of the finest seafronts in Europe, providing an active landscape for visitors and residents, and providing new links between town and beach.

Tower Festival Headland
The first of the new seafront headlands to be developed, this is a spectacular open-air events space for up to 20,000 spectators which has already staged events featuring the likes of Elton John, Gary Barlow and Peter Kay. The headland is also home to The Comedy Carpet, one of the largest public artworks in the UK as well as Festival House – a purpose-built structure incorporating a beach-fronted bar and restaurant, The Wedding Chapel and Tourist Information Centre.

Private Sector Investment

Over this same period, there has been significant private sector investment, including:

• The £15m investment at Blackpool Pleasure Beach, creating a Nickelodeon Land theme park and new Wallace and Gromit ride
• £3m investment in a new indoor Illuminasia exhibition within the Winter Gardens
• Year on year investment in Blackpool Zoo by its international owners, Parques Reunidos
• Sustained capital investment in new facilities and visitor attractions at Sandcastle Waterpark
• Substantial investment in other parts of the visitor offer including hotel accommodation, restaurants, bars and attractions

Central Business District

A major mixed-use development scheme that seeks to revitalise one of the key gateways into the town. Situated opposite Blackpool North railway station, the £70m first phase, completed in 2014, includes four key features:

• A 120,000 square foot glass-fronted Sainsbury's supermarket
• A new office development, Number One Bickerstaffe Square office, which is now home to Blackpool Council and other businesses
• A fully refurbished secure and modern car park
• A new public square

The £220m masterplan for the area also includes proposals for a second phase which could include hotels, offices and leisure developments.

Marketing

£1m marketing campaign jointly undertaken by Merlin and VisitBlackpool in 2014, including the first destination-based TV advertising in years, and aimed at changing negative perceptions of the resort. The “Blackpool's Back” campaign also included extensive PR, press and social media activity.

Events

Blackpool has developed an annual programme of high-quality events capable of attracting large volumes of visitors and revenues. The core programme, most of which is free to access, already includes World Fireworks, Ride The Lights, the Illuminations Switch-On celebration.

Brilliance

This theme lighting installation brought the Illuminations concept into the town centre, encouraging visitors to explore the inner and outer town and thus providing additional trading opportunities to the local business community. The enterprise is a balance, a large scale presence and light show in Blackpool.

Acquisition of Key Leisure Assets

Blackpool Council’s acquisition of Blackpool Tower, Winter Gardens and other key leisure assets in 2010 brought the resort’s most famous attractions into public ownership, creating the opportunity for strategic, purposeful investment. The partnership between the Council and Merlin, the world’s second largest leisure operator, has helped create the largest cluster of visitor attractions outside London, including Madame Tussauds, Blackpool Tower Eye and the Blackpool Dungeon.

The acquisition of the Winter Gardens has facilitated the start of a sympathetic regeneration of the remainder building with the restoration and opening up of a number of venues, installation of high-tech cinema equipment and investment in programming including the long awaited return of the summer season show.

Town Centre Retail

The first phase of the £150m HoundsHill Shopping Centre has been completed and has transformed the shopping experience for residents who had defected to other shopping centres such as Preston. The £150m expansion was completed in 2008, bringing a significant increase in floor space, attracting a wide variety of high street stores into Blackpool.

A new town square has been created outside the Winter Gardens, creating a pedestrianised street environment with adjacent cafes and restaurants. The arrival of branded restaurants in this vicinity is helping us to move towards a more balanced and attractive night-time economy.

Strengths

- Well-established national profile as a mainstream visitor destination
- Increasingly diverse tourism product for different market segments
- Large number of high-quality visitor attractions
- Key leisure assets (Tower and Winter Gardens) in public ownership
- Visible signifiers of visitor accommodation
- Long-established reputation as a conference destination
- Blackpool Illuminations extend tourism season into November
- Wide range/price of visitor accommodation
- Long-established reputation as a conference destination
- Blackpool Illuminations extend tourism season into November
- Strong programme of established free events
- Easy access to the M55 and national motorway network
- Good rail links, with electrification of routes from Blackpool to Preston and beyond due in 2015
- Updated tram network provides good internal connections across the Fylde Coast

Opportunities

- Conversion of large volumes of day visitors into staying visitors
- Development of Central Station site as a major mixed leisure destination
- Development of new/enhanced conference and exhibition facilities
- Development of new branded hotels to support business and leisure tourism
- Conversion of Tower Lounge into family-based attraction
- Creation of a town centre cultural quarter with the Winter Gardens as the focal point
- Development of a heritage-based visitor attraction
- Use of Tourism Academy funding to improve hospitality standards and other skills within the visitor economy
- Rejuvenation of early evening economy with new family-based leisure offer
- Working with private sector partners to co-fund marketing campaigns
- Repackaging of Blackpool Airport to support business growth/industrial tourism
- Regionalisation of the Blackpool Illuminations
- Growth in domestic tourism
- Expansion and investment in arts, culture and heritage tourism
- Improvement of Blackpool to Preston rail line and expansion of direct London services
- Expansion of ferry service from Fleetwood to Nieuwpoort
- Potential reduction in VAT on tourism product
- Development of Stanley Park as a mainstream visitor attraction

Weaknesses

- Negative perceptions of Blackpool as a place
- Audience profile dominated by lower-spending visitors
- Over-supply of low-grade holiday accommodation leading to market failure and proliferation of HMOs
- Seasonal nature of tourism-related employment
- Low levels of private sector investment in visitor economy
- Lack of strategic investment in Blackpool Illuminations display
- Over-reliance on bars/clubs, lack of recognised family-based restaurant brands
- Under-performing town centre – lack of higher-end retail brands
- Lack of appropriate facilities for coach drivers and passengers
- Visitor car parks infrastructure not fit for purpose
- Declining local government finances and ability to deliver transformational factors

Threats

- Further market failure within the visitor accommodation sector leading to more derelict sites along Promenade
- Persistent poor external portrayal of Blackpool
- Further competition from major urban centres of Manchester and Liverpool as day visit destinations
- Failure to meet new EU bathing water standards
- Tourism market is price sensitive, particularly during ‘off peak’ periods
- Sustainability of Blackpool Illuminations without significant private sector support
- Private sector fails to invest and improve quality in the tourism sector
- Further public sector funding reductions leading to a lack of funding to support improvements and refreshing of physical infrastructure in town centres
- New and emerging markets for visitor economy are not identified and tapped
- Diminishing levels of marketing resource against backdrop of reduced local authority funding

What Next?

2014 proved a turning point in Blackpool’s fortunes with an upsurge in visitor numbers and the conversion of tens of thousands of day trippers into staying visitors.

Much of this success came on the back of an ambitious ‘Blackpool’s Back’ destination marketing campaign that sought to reverse the negative investment perceptions made in the resort and that start to convert negative perceptions.

With success comes confidence, the sort of confidence that encourages existing businesses to invest even more, and to take a stake in the resort’s future.

The following pages of this plan seek to build on the foundations that have been laid and the change in the quality and consistency of the visitor offer. The plans outlined in this Product Plan 3.2.2. Promise to open up the issue of the opportunity that lies ahead of us.

Promotion

Without effective marketing, the challenge of repositioning and changing negative perceptions about Blackpool will be difficult to overcome. This DMP sets out a plan for comprehensive marketing activity that promotes the "new Blackpool" to existing, lapsed and new visitors across the UK and overseas.

- Destination marketing strategy: Establish innovative destination marketing strategy incorporating events, TV, digital and PR activity with a key focus on changing visitor perceptions of Blackpool

- Switch On Festival: Further development of Blackpool Illuminations Switch-On Festival Weekend to include three consecutive days/nights of high-quality entertainment

- Blackpool Illuminations: Develop and deliver a bespoke marketing strategy for Blackpool Illuminations including the securing of new advertising and sponsorship

Place

Provision of a visitor-friendly experience in terms of infrastructure and environmental management

- Roads: Completion of Weston Way maintenance project prior to start of 2015 season
- Rail: Completion of Blackpool to Preston electrification scheme. Rebuilding of Blackpool North station. Further expansion of direct Blackpool North to London services, targeted at inbound leisure visitors
- Car parking and pricing policy: Development of more visitor-friendly on-park pricing policy and reduction of reimbursement payment facilities. Identification of potential new car parking sites to offer more visitor choice at East Topping Street and South Car Park
- Airport: Reinvention of Blackpool Airport as a commercial airport focused on inbound tourism and business growth
- Coach parking: Development of more user-friendly coach parking facilities
- Motorhome hosting: Identification and development of new locations for motorhomes
- Way-finding: Implementation of intelligent variable message signages to assist visitors to navigate through town and identify available parking
- Electric vehicles: Identification and development of locations for funding of electric/hybrid vehicles

The Brand Position

The Brand Values

The brand is underpinned by a set of values that differentiate Blackpool from other destinations:

Love of the Different
There is nothing beige or dull about Blackpool. It’s a place that is wonderfully unique, surprising and challenging.

Genuine
There is nothing false about Blackpool. We are sincere, true to our roots, no pretence. We are open and glad to see you.

Big WOW! Little WOW!
We have some famed, internationally-renowned ‘wow’ attractions, but also some surprising ‘little wows’ that add real value to the Blackpool offer.

Make Relaxing Easy
We are a great natural host. We work hard to take care of you so you can enjoy the best of what Blackpool has to offer.

Positive Energy
The people of Blackpool have a positive, can-do attitude, they make things happen. We are enthusiastic and excusable.

The Hygiene Factors

Whilst the brand values are what differentiate Blackpool from other places, there are also three crucial hygiene factors that don’t differentiate, but are critical to the repositioning of Blackpool.

Without these hygiene factors in place we will not overturn the negative perceptions of the resort.

Quality
Blackpool must strive to deliver a quality product across all areas, not just in terms of accommodation, food and drink, and attractions, but also in terms of car parking, public realm and customer service.

Safety
Any perceptions that Blackpool is an unsafe place to visit or a place where the focus of the visitor offer is skewed towards a late-night drinking economy are seriously damaging to Blackpool’s brand aspirations.

Cleanliness
Clean and tidy streets; public realm that is well maintained; beaches that are free from litter and detritus; bathing waters that comply with European standards; hotel stock that complies with accreditation standards and visitor expectations - these are givens for a resort that promotes itself as a contemporary, quality destination.

The City Life On The Beach” brand position is an aspirational one. It is not a marketing slogan – more a touchstone to ensure that all stakeholders in Blackpool are working together to draw up the quality of life for residents and the attractiveness of the offer for visitors.

Within this, Blackpool should be perceived as a happy brand, remembered as a place where memories are made, with a much-loved classic, reinvigorated for a new and more demanding audience.

This is a place that is wonderfully unique, surprising and challenging...
The value of tourism is often measured in volumes of visitors. Whilst that is an important statistic, it only tells part of the story. Some of the purpose of this plan is to deliver physical change; the sort of transformational change that changes perceptions and delivers tangible economic impact.

A New Horizon

Take a look at the five-year timeline and the scale of what this Destination Management Plan seeks to deliver can clearly be seen.

Collectively, these objectives have the potential to provide the step change that will create a destination that is aspirational, immersive and proud, attract new generations of visitors and reaffirm Blackpool’s status as the most popular beach resort in the UK.

The key objectives set out opposite are both challenging and aspirational, but eminently achievable if Blackpool can harness the change that has already been achieved and use it to create a real sense of impetus.

With that will come investor confidence and a sea change in any residual negative perceptions about what Blackpool stands for and where its future lies.
