1. Introduction

This is a joint commissioning strategy for adult carers for Blackpool Council and NHS Blackpool and outlines the strategic intentions for the next five years in relation to the organisations' commitments to carers.

It relates to adult carers (aged 18+) who care for an adult who lives in Blackpool. An adult carer who cares for someone who lives outside of Blackpool will need to refer to the relevant local authority. However, all people registered with a GP in Blackpool are entitled to health provision provided by NHS Blackpool.

The role of 'carer' should not be confused with 'care worker' or 'care staff' who are either undertaking a caring role as part of paid employment or as volunteers attached to a voluntary organisation.

The new national strategy for carers, 'Carers at the heart of 21st century families and communities' (2008) proposes that 'A carer spends a significant proportion of their life providing unpaid support to family and potentially friends. This could be caring for a relative, partner or friend who is ill, frail, disabled or has a mental health problem or substance misuse problems'.

Within this definition there are three types of carers:

Adult carers – adults caring for adults over the age of 18 years.

Parent carers – parents caring for a child or young person under the age of 18 who has a disability.

Young carers – children or young people under the age of 18 who are caring for either another child or young person or an adult.

Adult carers in Blackpool define themselves as:

'Someone who supports a relative, partner or friend who cannot manage on his or her own. You do not have to live with the person, nor do you have to be the only person who does the caring'.

This strategy will consider the whole 'carer pathway' encompassing carers with entitlements to high level statutory support and those with few entitlements or whose entitlements are yet to be established.

Whilst the focus of this strategy is adult carers it will consider joint commissioning across boundaries and transitions, which include:

- people becoming carers for the first time
- the transition to adulthood for children with disabilities and for young carers
- hospital admission/discharge
- the end of the caring role, through choice, carer ill health, bereavement or the carers own death
- returning to work post caring

2. The vision for carers in Blackpool

2.1 Strategic intentions

The national strategy for carers has a vision that by 2018, carers will be universally recognised and valued as being fundamental to strong families and stable communities. Support will be tailored to meet individuals' needs, enabling carers to maintain a balance between their caring responsibilities and a life outside caring, whilst enabling the person they support to be a full and equal citizen.

The actions proposed in this strategy will contribute to the delivery of the commitments identified in the national strategy and are considered under the following strategic intentions for carers, which reflect local needs:

Objective A : Carers are respected as expert care partners and will have access to the integrated and personalised service they need to support them in their caring role.

Commissioning Intention A1: Advice and Information which is comprehensive, easily accessible and co-ordinated will be widely available for all carers.

Commissioning Intention A2: Services for carers will be easily accessible to all carers.

Commissioning Intention A3: Training to support carers in their caring role, which will empower and enable carers to enhance their own well being and that of the people they care for, will be made available.

Commissioning Intention A4: Social care, health and third sector workforce will have the skills and knowledge required to treat carers as expert partners.

Commissioning Intention A5: Carers will be supported to be involved in service planning and delivery.

Objective B: Carers will be able to have a life of their own alongside their caring role.

Commissioning Intention B1 : Carers will have the opportunity for regular breaks suited to their individual situation.

Commissioning Intention B2: Carers will enjoy a life outside of caring by being supported to access universal services.

Objective C: Carers will be supported so that they are not forced into financial hardship by their caring role.

Commissioning Intention C1: Carers will be supported to continue in employment or return to employment if that is what they choose to do.

Commissioning Intention C2: Carers will be supported to maximise financial support available to carers.

Objective D: Carers will be supported to stay mentally and physically well and treated with dignity.

Commissioning Intention D1: Carers will be offered assessments which address issues that effect the whole family.

Commissioning Intention D2: Services for carers will support carers health and wellbeing.

Commissioning Intention D3: Social care, health and third sector workforce will have the skills and knowledge required to treat carers with dignity and respect.

Objective E: Children and young people will be protected from inappropriate caring and have the support they need to learn, develop and thrive, to enjoy positive childhoods and to achieve against all the Every Child Matters outcomes

Commissioning Intention E1: Ensure that the transitions from children's to adult services are included in the seamless pathway for all carer services.

A summary of the commitments outlined in the national strategy can be found in Appendix A.

2.2 Key outcomes for carers

The Care Quality Commission Performance Assessment Framework measures the performance of the local authority against the seven outcomes within the White Paper, Our Health, Our Care, Our Say, and against two domains, 'leadership' and 'commissioning and use of resources'.

Blackpool Council and NHS Blackpool will commission services for carers which will contribute to the seven outcomes of Our Health, Our Care, Our Say, which all detail outcomes relating to carers support. These are:

- carers will have improved health and well-being
- carers will have improved quality of life
- carers will be able to make a positive contribution
- carers will have improved choice and control
- carers will have freedom from discrimination
- carers will have economic well being
- carers will have personal dignity and respect

2.3 Key principles for carers

Blackpool Council and NHS Blackpool will work towards the following key principles when commissioning services for carers:

- carers should have recognition
- carers should have a choice
- carers should have information
- carers should be provided with appropriate personalised support
- the financial cost of caring should be minimised & economic wellbeing promoted
- services and information should be provided on an integrated/coordinated basis within and across agencies
- carers should be involved in planning and monitoring the services they receive

2.4 Personalisation

The Putting People First agenda is about giving people the power to shape their own lives and have more control over the support services they use (Putting People First Concordat 2007; Local Authority Circulars 'Transforming Adult Social Care' (DH) 2008 and 2009). Any developments within this strategy will be built around the key aims of the Putting People First agenda namely:

- developing more choice and control for people and their carers
- encouraging people and their carers to make use of universal services and making those services more accessible
- encouraging people and their carers to become more involved in their local communities and supporting local groups to provide services
- early intervention and prevention so that fewer people and their carers have crises

2.5 Commissioning Accountability Framework

Blackpool Council and NHS Blackpool have an Adult Community Services Joint Commissioning Accountability Framework. Within this framework an Adult Community Services Joint Commissioning Group takes responsibility for adult carers. The structure comprises of four levels which ensures that agreed commissioning priorities are met. The four level comprise of:

- Adult Community Services Joint Commissioning Group
- Senior Joint Commissioning Group
- Work stream sub groups (includes a work stream sub group for carers)
- Partnership Events

National and Local Guidance

This joint commissioning strategy is aimed at improving services for carers and enhancing the quality of life for the people they care for as well as increasing the effectiveness and efficiency of health, social care and third sector services. Carers play a significant part in the care of all social and health care service users, regardless of the nature of the cared for condition. A large number of government and national guidance documents impact on the future direction of social and health care, and therefore on services for carers. It is imperative that a joint commissioning strategy also delivers on national priorities. The strategy is informed by a number of national and local documents and legislation, details of which can be found in Appendix B.

Who Cares in Blackpool

4.1 General information for Blackpool carers

In order to effectively develop services for carers the evidence of current and future needs for carers are considered. There is no shortage of information and research available to illustrate the extent of unpaid care being undertaken in England and Wales and the often difficult circumstances that carers can find themselves in whilst undertaking their caring role. Appendix C provides an overview of the national picture for carers.

It has been estimated that the economic value of the contribution made by carers in Blackpool is £264 million (Valuing Carers – calculating the value of unpaid care 2007).

The following breakdown of carers in Blackpool is provided by the 2001 census data.

Care provided for:	Number of people	Percentage of resident population
1 – 19 hours per week	9,068	6.4
20 – 49 hours per week	1,979	1.4
50 + hours per week	4,396	3.1
Total	15,443	10.9

There is insufficient information recorded about carers in Blackpool to provide any meaningful breakdown of carers in Blackpool. We need to consider how we can get more reliable information about carers in Blackpool in order to plan appropriate carer services.

The Adult Social Care Client Information System is the main system for recording carer's details who are known to Blackpool Social Care and Housing. This provides us with the following information:

- The number of carers known to services in Blackpool is approximately 4000. (26% of the number of carers identified in the 2001 Census)
- Information on age is missing for 21% of carers but of those we know about 50.7% are of working age (18-64) and the remaining 49.3% are aged 65+

- 4% are between the age of 18 – 40 years of age.
- The ethnicity of the carer is missing for 60% of carers but of those we know about, less than 1% (0.9%) are non white.

Carers are eligible for a Carers Assessment (jointly or separately) if the person they care for is eligible to receive social care services; the person they care for does not have to be in receipt of services. The number of carers receiving and declining assessments is recorded on Blackpool's Referrals, Assessments and Package of Care (RAP) return. The following is a breakdown of carer's assessments as submitted on Blackpool's RAP since 2006/07.

Year	Number of Carers Receiving Joint Assessment/Review	Number of Carers Receiving Separate Assessment/Review	Number of Carers Declining an Assessment
2006/07	250	464	76
2007/08	202	455	209
2008/09	167	574	223

4.2 Performance

The principle measure of carers services for Local Authorities is the national indicator which came into effect on 1st April 2008, it was previously reported in the former Performance Assessment Framework (PAF) as PAF C62. The new indicator is NI 135; 'Carers receiving needs assessment or review and a specific carers service or advice and information'. It can be more accurately defined as 'the number of carers whose needs are assessed or reviewed by the Council in a year who received a specific carer's service or advice and information in the same year as a percentage of people receiving a community based service in the year'. In relation to NI135 Blackpool Councils performance has been as follows.

PAF C62/NI 135
	Blackpool	England Average	Unitary Authority Average	Family Group Average *
2006/2007	11.7	20.7	17.2	22.8
2007/2008	15.3	22	18.2	24.7
2008/2009	16.4	23	21.6	27.2

* Other authorities within Blackpool's Family Group can be found in Appendix D.

Blackpool's 2008/2009 result for NI 135 (16.4%) is almost half that of the family group average (27.2%) and is over five percentage points below the unitary average. However, we have improved on our own performance since calculations started for NI135 with a result of 11.7% in 2006/07 and 15.3% in 2007/08.

4.3 Who carers in Blackpool care for

The carers identified on Adult Social Care Client Information system details the categories of people they care for as follows:

Client Category of the Cared For	% of carers
Not known	13.0
Physical or Sensory Disability	64.1
Learning Disability	8.5
Mental Health Problems	19.2
Substance misuse	0.2
Other vulnerable people	5.6

4.4 Blackpool carers and employment

'Carers at the heart of 21st Century families and communities' sets out the need to support carers in gaining and maintaining employment. However the lack of reliable data about carers in Blackpool means it is not possible to obtain accurate data regarding carers and employment.

As at May 2009 the number of residents in Blackpool claiming Carers Allowance was 3350, of these 2150 were of working age (<http://research.dwp.gov.uk/asd/ca.asp>). Carers Allowance is paid to carers who spend at least 35 hours caring and earn under £95 per week.

4.5 Blackpool carers and ethnicity

The Office of National Statistic Mid Year Estimated population of Blackpool is 142500 of which 1.6% is identified as Black Minority Ethnic (BME). Of the carers whose ethnicity is identified on the Adult Social Care Client Information system 0.9% (14) are non white. Given that the 2001 Census found that 15443 (10.9%) of the population of Blackpool are carers then 1.6% of these (249) are likely to be BME carers.

4.6 Future Blackpool picture

The Projecting Older People Population Information System (POPPIS) projects the number of people over the age of 65 years providing unpaid care will rise in the next five years from 3081 in 2010 to 3321 in 2015.

If the number of all carers in Blackpool is to increase in line with the expected national trend (60% by 2037) there will be approximately 24,700 carers in Blackpool by 2037.

5. Market Analysis and Funding Arrangements

A wide range of services for adult carers already exists in Blackpool. Details of these along with existing contractual, commissioning and funding arrangements can be found in Appendix D.

6. Carers Views

6.1 National views of carers

Carers UK, Crossroads and The Princess Royal Trust for Carers are the three main national third sector organisations providing a voice for carers. With the support of these organisations and local carers' centres and groups, the public consultation for the national Strategy was far reaching. It lasted six months and involved 4,000 carers. Blackpool carers were supported to be involved in this consultation. Local support groups were consulted and their collective views contributed to an on-line 'Ideas Tree'.

The national consultation demonstrates that carers simply want to be able to access the same opportunities that are available to all people relating to health and wellbeing, employment and finance, having time to themselves, being recognised and respected and being involved in society.

6.2 Local views of carers

Blackpool Council and NHS Blackpool have a culture of engagement, participation and involvement of service users, carers and relevant stakeholders and a number of established participation, involvement and engagement opportunities for Carers in Blackpool. The Adult Social Care and Housing Participation, Involvement & Engagement Strategy 2009, has been adopted NHS Blackpool.

Blackpool Council has a number of established participation, involvement and engagement opportunities for Carers in Blackpool. The Mental Health Carers Voice and the Carers Readers Panel meet regularly and there are a number of carers support groups and forums in Blackpool which are consulted as appropriate. Carers from the Mental Health Voice participate in the training of staff and also the recruitment of staff. The Carers Readers Panel supports the development and review of literature for carers. Blackpool Carers Centre undertakes an Annual Carers Survey.

What carers in Blackpool have told us about their needs and local services has reflected the views expressed in the national strategy.

"I just want to live as normal a life as possible" (Quote from a Blackpool Carer 2009)

Recent consultation with carers in Blackpool includes:

- Consultation undertaken with carers and stakeholders during a mapping exercise of current carer services and service gap analysis (February 2009).
- Consultation undertaken by Blackpool Carers Centre on Carers Breaks (October 2009)
- An annual survey undertaken by Blackpool Carers Centre (October 2009)

Carers expressed views along with those from other relevant stakeholders have helped to identify gaps in provision for carers and develop the commissioning intentions in this strategy. A summary of these can be found in Appendix E.

7. Gap Analysis

This section provides an analysis of gaps in current provision against the commissioning intentions identified in Section 2.

National Service Framework for Older People (DH 2001)	A National Service Framework for Older People has been established to look at the problems older people face in receiving care in order to deliver higher quality services. The key standards that underpin the Framework are outlined. These include plans to eradicate age discrimination and to support person-centred care with newly integrated services. A new layer of intermediate care is being developed at home or in care settings, while general hospital care should be delivered by the appropriate hospital staff. The NHS is also to take action on stroke prevention, in the promotion of health and active life and a reduction in the number of falls for older people. Integrated mental health services are to be provided for older people. The process of translating these nationally supported standards into local delivery is outlined. Carers are integral to all standards and service models in this NSF. It emphasises that carers' needs should be considered as an integral part of the way in which services are provided for older people.
National Service Framework for Long Term Conditions (DH 2005)	This NSF sets 11 quality requirements to transform the way health and social care services support people with long-term neurological conditions to live as independently as possible. Although the NSF focuses on people with long-term neurological conditions, much of the guidance it offers can apply to anyone living with a long-term condition. Quality requirement 10 – Support family and carers with neurological conditions are to have access to appropriate support and services that recognise their needs both in their role as a carer and in their own right.

Valuing and Supporting Carers (House of Commons Work and Pensions Committee, 2008)	This Works and Pensions Committee report calls on DWP to take a stronger and more proactive lead in Government policy on carers. As well as identifying and implementing specific policies to improve the lives of carers, DWP needs to take specific account of carers in all its work, including its role in reducing child poverty and pensioner poverty, its efforts to see 80% of working age people in employment, and its vision of giving people equality of opportunity.

Diversity in Caring: towards equality for carers (Carers UK 2007)	This report highlights new evidence about carers in all their diversity and about how different groups of carers experience their caring situation, especially in relation to their ability to combine caring with paid employment. The study includes responses from ethnic minority carers, and extensive data about carers supporting someone living in a rural area, carers in difficult financial circumstances, and carers in poor health. This report illustrates the situation of these groups of carers with data from qualitative interviews to explore how far carers with these characteristics have distinct needs or experiences, and explores how far these carers have needs which differentiate them from other carers.
End of Life Care Strategy – promoting high quality care for all adults at the end of life (DH 2008)	Its aim is to provide people approaching the end of life with more choice about where they would like to live and die. It encompasses all adults with advanced, progressive illness and care given in all settings. Recognises the family, including children, close friends and informal carers of people approaching the end of life, have a vital role in the provision of care and that they need to be closely involved in decision making, with the recognition that they also have their own needs. They need information about the likely progress of the person's condition and information about services which are available. They may well also need practical and emotional support both during the person's life and after bereavement.

The National Picture

There is no shortage of information and research available to illustrate the extent of unpaid care being undertaken in England and Wales and the often difficult circumstances that carers can find themselves in whilst undertaking their caring role. The following information provides an overview of the national picture for carers.

General information

- Caring applies to all age groups, ethnic groups and geographic locations (Census 2001)
- There are 5.2 million carers in England & Wales (Census 2001)
- 1 million carers in England and Wales provide care for over 50 hours each week (Census 2001)
- More than half of the people providing over 50 hours each week are over the age of 55 (Census 2001)
- 42% of carers are men and 58% women (Supporting Carers: An Action Guide for General Practitioners and their Teams 2008)
- The economic value of the contribution made by carers in the UK is estimated at £87 billion per year (Valuing Carers – calculating the value of unpaid care, 2007)

Carers and their health

- People who provide long hours of care are twice as likely to be in poor health themselves (Census 2001)
- Over 225,000 people providing 50 or more hours of unpaid care per week stated that they are not in good health themselves (Census 2001)
- More than 50% of the people providing over 50 or more hours of unpaid care per week are over the age of 55 and it is at these ages that the 'not good health' rate is highest (Census 2001)
- Of almost 2 million people aged 16 -74 who are permanently sick or disabled, 273,000 provide some unpaid care for other people (Census 2001).
- More than 80% of carers say that caring has damaged their health (Supporting Carers: An Action Guide for General Practitioners and their Teams 2008)
- Out of all carers caring for more than 50 hours per week, one third report depression (Supporting Carers: An Action Guide for General Practitioners and their Teams 2008)
- The prevalence of psychiatric morbidity is significantly higher in those who care for others in their own home (Supporting Carers: An Action Guide for General Practitioners and their Teams 2008)

Carers and finances

- Carers live under extreme financial pressure with many cutting back on essentials to make ends meet. 74% are struggling to pay essential utility bills, 54% are in debt (Carers in crisis: A survey of carers' finances in 2008, Carers UK)
- 3 out of 4 carers are worse off as a result of caring and more than half have given up paid work to care (Carers in Crisis 2008, Carers UK)
- Half of all carers are in full or part-time work, and a quarter of carers are retired (Census 2001)
- Many of the people providing care do paid work as well. Of 15.2 million employees aged 16 – 74 in full time work, 1.6 million are providing at least some unpaid care (Census 2001)

- It is estimated that caring responsibilities affect 1 in 7 of the workforce (Standing Commission on carers 28 April 2008)
- Working carers appear to pay considerable penalty in terms of their own health (Statistical Analysis – Working Carers: Evidence from 2001 Census, 2008)
- Working carers are more likely to be unqualified and less likely to hold university degrees, than other people in employment (Statistical Analysis – Working Carers: Evidence from 2001 Census, 2008)
- Working carers of both sexes are more clustered in lower level jobs than other workers (Statistical Analysis – Working Carers: Evidence from 2001 Census, 2008)
- Working carers, especially women, are more likely than other workers to work from or near home (Statistical Analysis – Working Carers: Evidence from 2001 Census, 2008)

Carers and ethnicity

In 2002 National Black Carers and Carers Workers Network launched the 'We care too' project which provided key guidance and recommendations for people working with BME (Black and Minority Ethnic) Carers. 'Beyond we care too' (2008), a study which builds on the work of 'We care too' captures the important role of BME carers and the additional barriers people from BME communities face as carers. This provided the following picture for BME carers nationally:

- there is a lack of baseline data regarding the numbers, role and experiences of carers within black and minority ethnic communities
- carers from minority ethnic groups face additional barriers (Cultural and language) when accessing support services
- ethnic minority carers were especially likely to say they felt restricted in using services because of lack of information, lack of flexibility and services not being sensitive to their needs.

Future national picture

The potential to become a Carer applies to people indiscriminately; immunity from caring responsibilities is not bought by virtue of race, gender or age. We are living in a changing society with a growing ageing population, with predictions that people will be in poor health for longer and needing more care and that more people with severe disabilities will be living in the community and enjoying longer lives. There is an inextricable link between aging and disability. Consequently, an increasing number of people will find themselves taking on a caring role at some point in their lives. In addition the positive shift in social care strategy to independent living and care at home will require a greater contribution from carers. It is important to consider predicted future care profile and demand for future services.

- Carers UK has estimated that by 2037 the number of carers is set to increase by around 60%
- Everyday 6,000 people take on new caring responsibilities (Carers at the heart of 21st century families and communities, 2008)
- There will be a projected 1.6 million more adults in England with a care need by 2026 (a 30 per cent increase) and 2.9 million more by 2041 (50 per cent increase) (Carers at the heart of 21st century families and communities, 2008)

Funding Arrangements

Carer Grant

In recognition that caring can have a negative impact on a person's health and wellbeing, the Government introduced the Carers Grant in 1999 to help councils to provide breaks and services for carers in England. Since 2008 the grant has been paid to councils as part of the Local Area Grant. The grant includes funding specifically allocated in recognition of the need for councils to ensure they have the means to provide emergency cover when carers are suddenly unable to care. As the grant is not ring fenced local authorities are able to determine locally how best to spend it in order to deliver local and national priorities.

The Government's objective is for councils to use the Carers Grant to continue developing personalised, innovative and high quality carers services in response to local needs in partnership with carers, relevant voluntary organisations, the local NHS and other statutory agencies.

Blackpool's grant allocation

Since 2008 when the ring fence was removed from the Carers Grant, Blackpool Council has continued to show commitment to supporting carers through the continued delivery and development of a wide range of services to support carers as outlined in Section 6 of this strategy.

Blackpool's grant allocation for 2009/2010 is £887,000 and for 2010/2011 £943,000. The grant is used to provide services which support adult carers, parent carers and young carers.

NHS Blackpool funding

The National Carers Strategy committed £150m to be given to Primary Care Trusts (PCTs) over the next two financial years (2009-10, 2010-2011) to further develop breaks for carers. PCT's are required to work with their local authority partners to publish joint plans to set out how this will be spent. This strategy will fulfil this requirement. There are no ring fenced or allocated funds within the PCT baseline budget for carers breaks. In Blackpool, NHS Blackpool is committed to working alongside Adult Social Care to identify funds for carers breaks from within existing resources.

CMHT Intermediate Care Team are starting a Carers Education Group in March 2009 Carers want more of and clear information & advice delivered at the right time and in the right format. Information and promotions worker could do this. Carers rights worker. More events to inform/assist/highlight services available. One number to ring for signposting – Carers Local Helpline – Free phone. More newsletters Carers slip through the net at the time of discharge for example when cared refuses support. Carer/Stakeholder Comments	Perceived Gap
Carers cannot always get out of the home to attend training courses. Some development opportunities could be provided in their home environment for example IT. We need a specialist welfare rights worker for carers. Not enough information about benefits in particular when our circumstances change. Employers should be more aware of carers needs.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • More work to get carers back into employment or to remain in employment. • Development training initiatives around employment and leisure. • More information on Carers Rights & Welfare Rights. • Work with Jobcentre Plus to enable carers needs to be recognised in employment. • Raising awareness of carers issues with employers.

2. Feedback from Blackpool Carers Centre Annual Survey

478 Carers responded to the survey.

50% of respondents did not know that they were entitled to a carers assessment.

47% of respondents had not had a carers assessment.

49% of respondents did not have any support in their caring role.

37% of respondents do not find it easy to get the information they need.

73% of respondents said that their GP was aware of their caring role but 84% felt they had not received any support from their GP's.

59% of respondents are keen to access an annual health check.

57% of respondents do not have the opportunity to have respite breaks.

A Sample of the comments made by carers who responded to the survey:

- An easy-access point needs to be available more centrally, even if just a query surgery once a month at Seaside/First Step Centre or similar.
- Cannot get to meetings.
- Have not used services.
- In the past I have contacted social services but no longer – too frustrating.
- Find it easier to get information needed now – difficult in past.
- Sitting service more important.
- It is difficult to behave as a family unit with our children because of caring role. Occasional support for evenings would help.
- GP introduced us to a community matron which we find very helpful and takes pressure off both of us.
- I feel let down by all the services I have contacted (medical and others). No one listens to me or seems to care.
- Am never forgotten, get newsletter.
- Poor public transport access.
- My surgery tells me that I'm not a priority for jabs, etc. If I became ill the NHS would have to care for my mother which would depress her and cost them a lot of money. Carers should be given priority on such lists.
- When a disabled person cares for another disabled person there should be more help and understanding how difficult it is for them.
- Complementary therapies very helpful.
- Have no means of getting to meetings.
- More support for people who do not care directly themselves, but who still have a lot of responsibility for the person being cared for, legal, etc.
- I get stressed up because of my husband's mental illness, would love to have somewhere to have massage on neck, shoulders and back.
- I have been a carer for 20 years, my husband died when I was 45. I have never asked for help. I used to work five nights a week and never go to bed, all I was offered was £50 a week to stay at home. Overheads are big so I never ask.
- Would be helpful to know of any coach companies to use for holidays that cater for wheelchair bound people who cannot walk at all.
- Information not always readily available, only got to know about respite and day care by discussing others things with social worker.
- What has not been considered is that carers may have young children to look after. I have a daughter of school age. We try to do things as a family.
- My Mum does not want to go into respite care so we can have a holiday so I have to reply on a good neighbour.
- Would like to be able to go for days out but am unable to because my husband is totally dependent and cannot be left all day.
- I have not been allowed a carers allowance which should be given to all carers even though I am still working, what I earn is more than is allowed in order to claim an allowance. The government should change this rule and recognise the amount of care if takes and the benefit my mother gets being with her family which is how it should be.

- As a result of lengthy time lapse when responding to needs, the elderly (d.o.b. 8/20) person is paying for aids which we are aware could be provided by the local health/social services dept
- Should be allowed an allowance as a carer but can't get it as I'm on my pension which to me is a disgrace.
- Lack of support for a family caring for an alcoholic.
- I have no complaints with the caring we get.
- Care for the Carer so that they can have a break. Better finances so that a few hours can be spared for the working carer.
- It would be nice to speak to other carers who are looking after someone with advanced Parkinson's disease as sometimes you feel very alone and frustrated.
- Find it difficult to access doctor's appointments. Been waiting now for one month to get one suitable.
- For carers to be paid for caring even if the person they are caring for is only on low carers DLA.
- Too many changes of staff at care centres, they are good staff but paid so little with long hours, problems and very little rewards. Hence many staff changes. Not enough training is given for certain types of care, eg diabetics. The system is a great improvement on what it used to be.
- The Vitaline and Falls Detector + Bed sensors are wonderful so are the staff. "Peace of mind when carer goes out"
- Organised activities, group settings, etc would benefit family members as they are a good distraction and make it so that people in the same situation can talk to each other.
- My wife and I greatly appreciate the social attitude of the Council towards carers and cared for persons. Thank you very much.
- To talk to someone on the phone.
- I feel ill with all the worry.
- One centre that can give you or find out answers to your questions instead of having to make numerous phone calls and being passed from one to another.
- We have worked hard all our lives to save and now I am being punished for claiming for carers allowance.
- No one has ever explained or helped in any way since my wife's illness.
- Payment of National Insurance, so that when I retire I would get a pension and if I am sick I could claim.
- Overall unreliability of services to meet those needs (Cared for).
- Can't leave my daughter and her children alone to go to group due to her disabilities.
- Those among the community in the self care over 70 age group are not terribly well blest in that they are not considered to be carers and this is quite unjust. They do not have anyone to talk to and do just as much work.
- I have been a carer for 12 years, 24 hours a day. People like myself are just left to get on with the role of caring. I have never received any help. I once rang social services and was just told that I would have to pay for any services they provide, which is fine if you have money to pay for it.
- If I can get help, I do not know about it, no one tells you.
- Most carers in my experience feel they would benefit if the carers allowance was paid to parents who are elderly and still caring for their adult son/daughter with learning difficulties, to enable them to pay for help with household duties.
- I do not think the carers' premium should finish at 65 if you are still doing the same care 24/7.
- They should help the carers earlier, as soon as the person involved has been diagnosed with the problems. The carer should be told of the "HELP" there is for them as well as their partner.
- I look after my wife because that is what partners do. The government has offered a wealth of information but no help.

- I need to keep on top of my job – and avoid redundancy too – so cannot be at my mum's beck and call all the time, but often have to take time out. I would love some system by which DLA attendance allowance was actually used by the claimant on, perhaps, subsidised quality of life-boosting excursions, activities, etc.
- Need staff to understand needs of Alzheimers/dementia patients and relatives' needs.
- As a carer I believe that the weekly amount that all carers receive is not enough.
- Take people shopping, to hospital, doctors, church, etc., gardening.
- Social Services to listen not just pay lip-service.
- The categories 18+ and 65+ - just because a person who was previously classified as disabled (prior to 65), it does not mean their disability vanishes on reaching 65+, if anything it gets worse and more difficult to handle.
- Don't know what is available.
- No support when the caring role ends - Blackpool social services dropped me like a stone.
- I would like to know more about my rights as a carer regarding information available about his condition and mental health acts which affect both him and me.
- My emphasis is upon the provision of care that is professional and well trained. Carers then have the freedom to access services for themselves or to make their own arrangements.
- There is a lack of recognition for people who work and are carers. I work for the NHS who are very understanding if you care for a child but not very helpful if it is an elderly person you care for!
- People who care for anyone who has addiction problems are often overlooked.
- Support for carers who look after a loved one with mental health problems is very poor. Support groups are sadly not easy to find. Also, a group needs to be formed with the correct backing to fight to change attitudes that are too often encountered by mental health professionals.
- I would like to know about benefits carers can get.

3. Summary of Consultation relating to Adult Carers, undertaken by Blackpool Carers Centre on Carers Breaks (October 2009)

The consultation involved adult carers, young carers, parent carers, former carers, volunteers and staff. The Centre held consultation meetings, informal discussion groups and distributed a questionnaire. The questionnaire was sent out in July and completed forms were returned by August 31st. The return rate was 29%.

The majority of carers who took part in the consultation are keen to access breaks but many have reservations. Carers repeatedly speak of feelings of isolation and guilt along with feelings of trust and love.

The main barriers to accessing breaks appear to be inadequate respite care, finance issues and availability of transport. Another important challenge for carers seeking a break from the caring role is the fact that the cared for does not wish to be looked after by anyone else and this leads to feelings of guilt by the carer.

The questionnaire was mailed out to those on the Centre's database and the consultation sessions included groups from various locations, however the results of the consultation cannot be considered to reflect the diverse population of Blackpool. Many individual groups within the community and carers who have a particularly heavy caring role do not access services. The results however demonstrate trends.
