We will keep your request for 12 months to allow for any appeal or complaint.

Timescales

We will respond as quickly as we can. We are required to respond to your request within 20 working days after we receive your request unless we need some clarification from you or we have to extend this timescale as your request is complex.

Charges

In general, there is no charge for the information. But, if the cost of the time required to identify and locate the information, retrieve it and extract it to send it to you is more than £450, we can refuse your request or charge you for it.

We will normally refuse your request and we will write to you to ask you to refine your request.

We can charge you for disbursements such as photocopying and postage but we will not normally charge for these unless they exceed £25.
